

Fig 1: User Login Page

The login page provides authentication functionality where users enter their email/username and password. Only authorized users can access the dashboard and features.

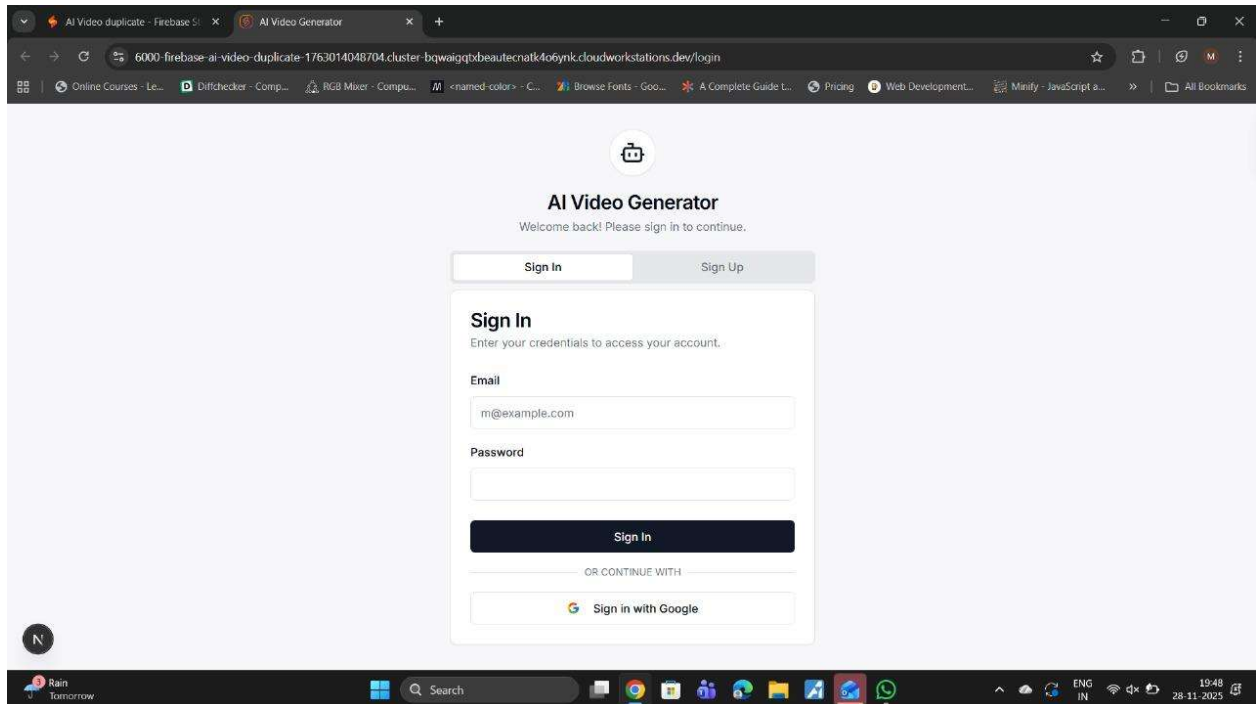

Figure 2: Represents the prompt-writing module, enabling users to input text instructions that guide the video generation process.

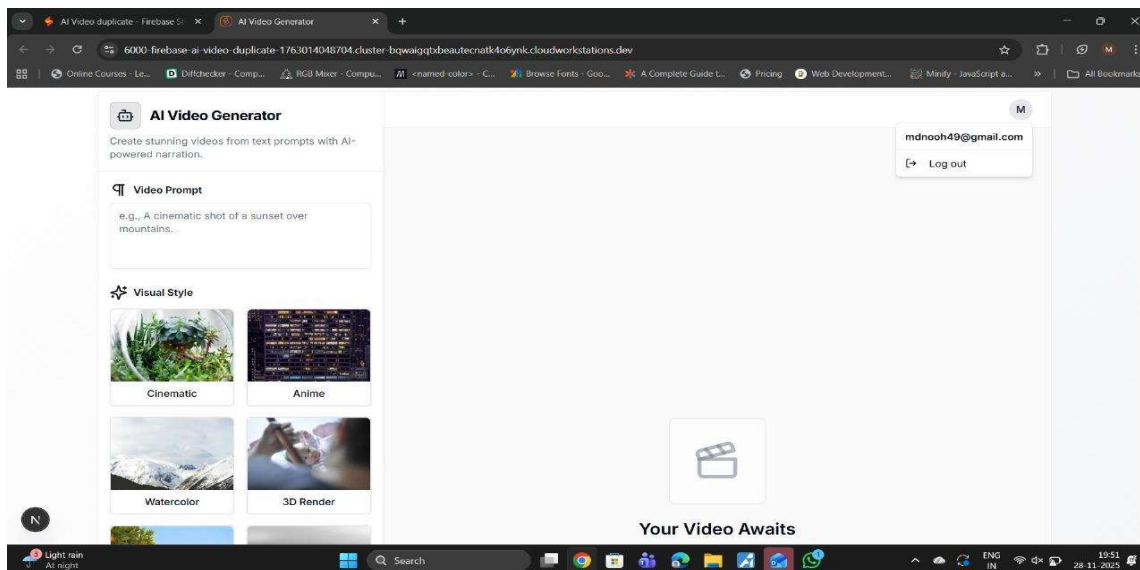

Figure 3: Represents the video generation module, providing features to create the video and select an optional language for audio or subtitles.

